

Editorial

Euclidean Press launched in September 1, 2009 its first electronic periodical JNM@S : Journal of Numerical Mathematics and Stochastics ( ISSN : 2151-2302), which is going to offer till the end of 2010 free open access to anyone, anywhere in the world.

JNM@S was founded in the belief that numerical mathematics and stochastics feed on each other, and that the computational mathematics community stands to benefit from a more complete exposure to the interaction between the two disciplines. The early sharing of insights increases the possibility that they will lead to common results. The journal aims to provide an international forum for open communications among numerical mathematicians and stochastics working on the advancement of these sciences.

JNM@S will publish mainly research papers. It will also publish short communications and survey articles, provided they are designed to advance some recent mathematical or stochastic numerical development in the field. Detailed information on the aims and scope of JNM@S, its editorial board, instructions for its authors, typescript style, and copyrights information may all be found at : www.jnmas.org .

A well founded expectation of a cooperation between authors, editors and referees is hoped to make this journal a success.

Sincerely,

Nassar H. S. Haidar
